WHERE I WISH I'D STARTED.

When I started my first business, I remember googling "what do I actually need to do?" and falling down a rabbit hole of conflicting advice and complicated jargon.

That's why I made this - a clear, no fluff checklist of the top 5 things that you NEED to do when you're starting a business in Australia.

Hi, I'm Krish.

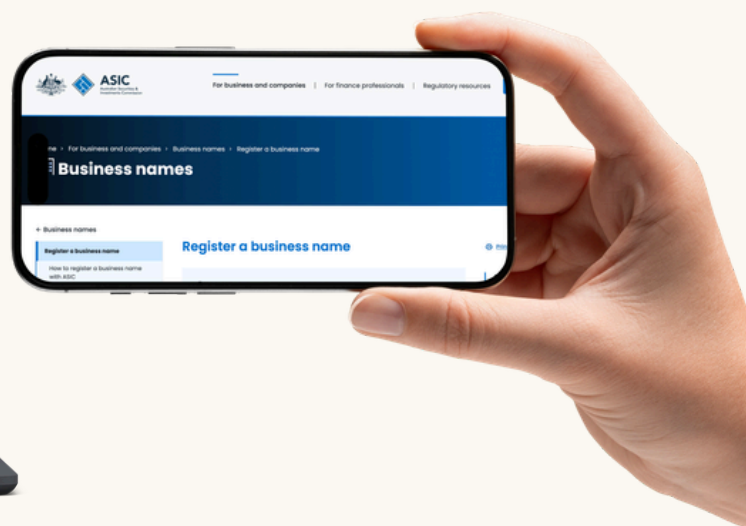

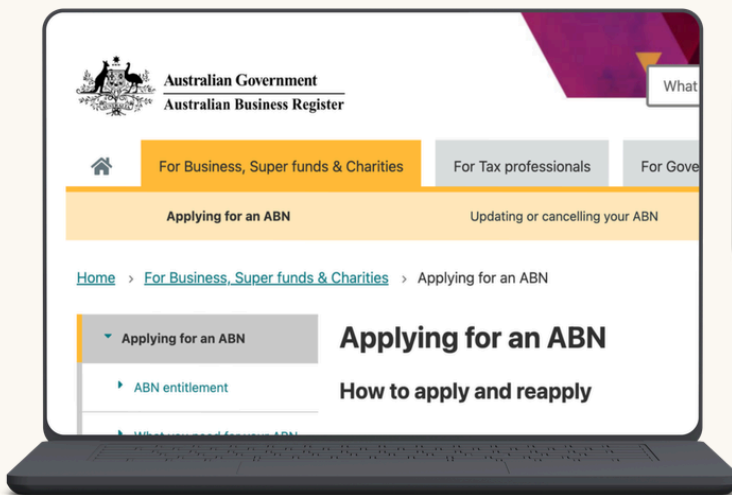

I left corporate in 2024 to go all in on my business, Lunaire Lifestyle. Since then, I've invested thousands of dollars and countless hours learning what it really takes to start and grow a business. This checklist is designed for early stage founders and aspiring entrepreneurs embarking on their first business venture.

Inside, you'll find a practical checklist of the key steps, tasks, and foundations you need to put in place to get your business off the ground and set yourself up for success.

1 ABN & REGISTER YOUR BUSINESS NAME

You'll need both before doing pretty much anything.

You can get an ABN for free from the ABR website (be careful - there are multiple other businesses that will sell you an ABN registration. Make sure you only do it through the ABR website).

Then register your business name through ASIC.

It costs approx $42 for 1 year or approx $98 for 3 years.

Super easy - it takes under 15 minutes if you already have a name picked out.

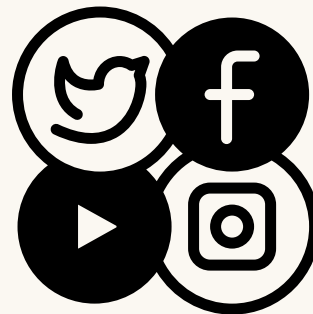

Pick the 3-year option if you're committed to the name - it works out cheaper and you won't have to think about renewing for a while.

2 SECURE ALL YOUR SOCIAL ACCOUNTS

Decide what your main social platforms will be (this depends on your target customer) and secure the desired handle on all of them. Ideally you want to keep it consistent across all platforms (if the handle is available)

I set up TikTok, Instagram, Pinterest, YouTube, Facebook and LinkedIn - even the ones I didn't plan on using straight away. It's just good to lock the name in.

Whichever platform you choose as your primary, start posting behind the scenes content early. People love following the journey - so if you can involve them from the beginning, do it. If you don't like being face to camera, that's okay! There are other ways to share your journey start building an audience. (Reach out if you'd like to discuss some of these strategies further in a 1:1 call).

Having the same handle across platforms means you are easy to find & remember and it's easier to share.

3 OPEN A BUSINESS BANK ACCOUNT

This is super easy to do and usually free.

It's so important to separate your business and personal expenses - set this up ASAP so you can make all business purchases through that account.

Keeping everything in one place from day one will save you a serious headache come tax time. Which leads us straight to the next one...

KEY TAKEAWAY

Separate your personal and business finances from day one.

4 ACCOUNTING SOFTWARE — OR A SPREADSHEET

Accounting software isn't cheap, but it does make tax time way easier.

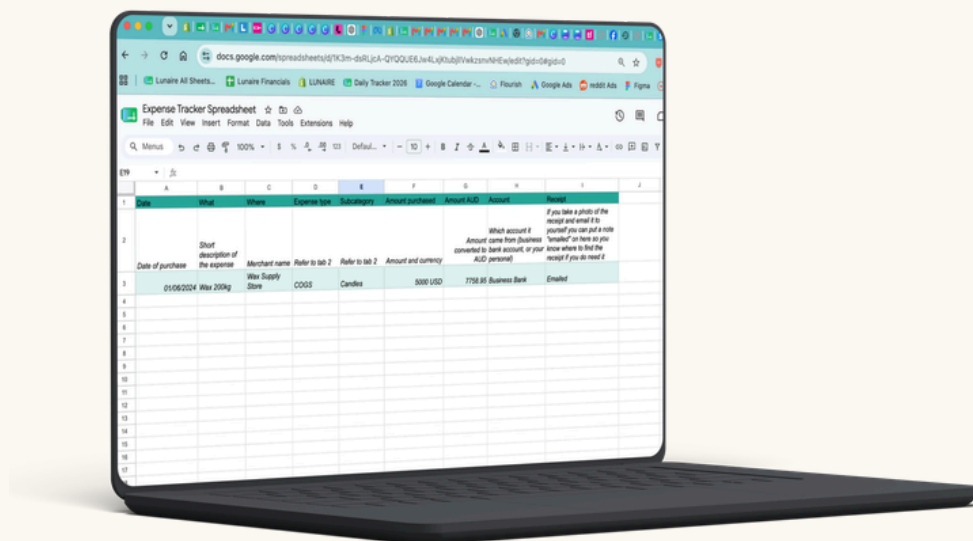

When you're just starting out and don't want to commit to subscriptions yet, I'd suggest using a spreadsheet - it'll do more or less the same job. It's free, but you need to be diligent and track every single expense.

Keep a copy of receipts too. I used to photograph them and email them to my business account, so there's always a digital copy in case I ever got audited.

When you're ready to commit to software like Xero or MYOB, it'll save time long-term. As long as you've kept all your spending in one bank account, you'll only need to jump in once a month to reconcile everything. (Highly recommend setting yourself up on a platform from the get go)

5 SET UP YOUR SITE & START COLLECTING EMAILS

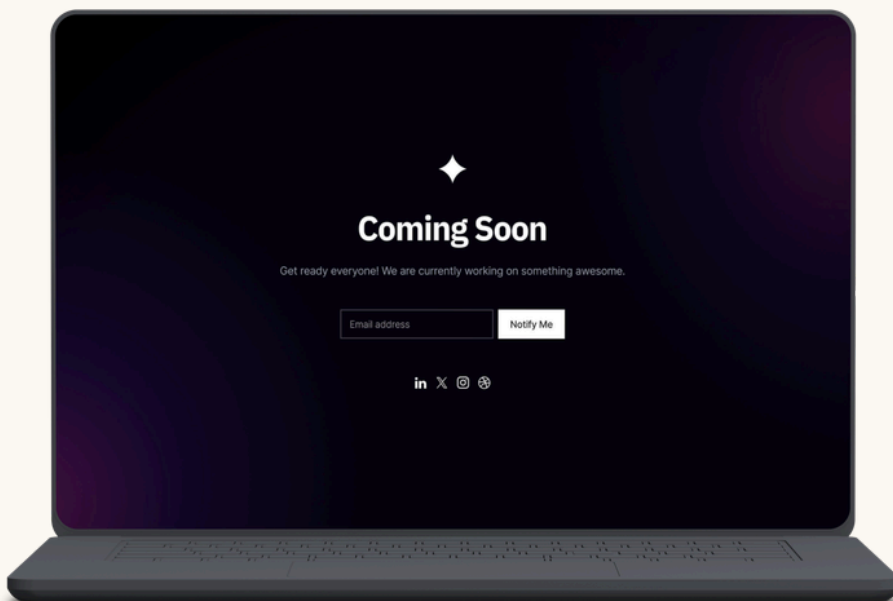

Even if your full website isn't ready, create a simple landing page and start collecting emails.

Emails are gold.

It's the one piece of data you own. If Instagram or TikTok shut down tomorrow, your followers disappear - but your email list? You still have it.

Start with a "Coming Soon" page and a clear call to action:

- Sign up to be the first to know about the launch
- Or offer a launch discount to incentivise subscribers (eg sign up for 10% off)

You can also create a lead magnet (like a free downloadable PDF or checklist) relevant to your product. In exchange, they give you their email - building your audience before you even launch.

I used Klaviyo, which integrates well with Shopify. Once your site is live you can build flows (welcome series, abandoned cart, abandoned checkout, upsell, cross sell, sunset series). But for now, just set up a simple pop up form and start building your list.

YOU'VE GOT THIS

START WITH THE BASICS. BUILD FROM THERE.

Starting a business can be overwhelming - but you don't have to do everything at once. Tick off these five, and you've got a real foundation under you.

If you need any support along the way, you can always reach out. I'm happy to help.
